MAYHEM IN PITTSBURG.

A Desperado Bites off the Ear of a Police Officer.

The Pittsburg Commercial of yesterday says: About 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon a most sickening sight was witnessed in the vicinity of Neil McCallion's saloon, on Sixth street. It seems that the well-known Johnny Newell was talking in a boisterous manner to Henry A. Grant, the colored foot-racer, with whom Newell ran a race in the oil regions. Officer Lewis Johnston, of the Mayor's police, came along, and before he had spoken Newell assailed him with vile epithets. Johnston told him to keep quiet, but this had the effect of increasing his disorderly demonstrations, and the officer ordered him under arrest. They had proceeded but a short distance up Sixth street, when Newell drew from his pocket a large brass key, and before Johnston was aware what he was going to do, received two severe blows upon the head. Newell at the same time tripped him, and he fell, catching hold of and taking Newell down with him. While struggling in the gutter Newell got the officer's left ear in his mouth, and bit it entirely off—as close as if it had been cut off with a knife. The officer regained his feet a moment afterwards, and notwithstanding he was bleeding and suffering intensely from the loss of his ear and the gash on his head, clung to his prisoner and conveyed him to the Mayor's office.

There was a large crowd of Newell's companions present, also a number of citizens, and to their discredit it should be said, not one of them interfered in the officer's behalf. An old gentleman named Prescott once attempted to go to the rescue of Officer Johnston, but the thieving companions of Newell caught and pulled him away. Any citizen who would stand by and see an officer abused in the manner described, without endeavoring to help him, should not be recognized as a citizen.

The officer was not on his beat, and did not have a mace or weapon upon his person.

Dr. Murdoch, the city physician, was summoned and the wound of the injured man dressed. That upon his head is about an inch and a half in length. The place from whence the ear was taken had to be sewed up, after which plasters were placed upon it and the whole head bandaged up. Johnston then made an information against Newell for mayhem, the warrant was read to him, and he was told he would have to remain in the lock-up until this morning at 10 o'clock, when a hearing will take place.

Officer Johnston is a trusty and reliable guardian, who has always rendered satisfaction. His conduct is highly commended in all quarters, and one well-known gentleman suggests that a substantial recognition of such merit as was displayed by the officer be given him, and so suggests that a purse or reward be given him, and as an earnest of the offer he proposes to head the list with ten dollars.

The penalty for the offense is a fine of $1000 and five years in the penitentiary. In addition to this the Mayor intends having the officer prefer a charge of aggravated assault and battery against him, in order that the punishment may be as severe as possible.

INCREDIBLE OUTRAGE.

A Clergyman Murdered in his Pulpit.

From the New Era, Fort Smith, Ark., April 28.

The most dastardly outrage heard of for a long time was perpetrated last Saturday at Chocoville, a quiet and flourishing village in the southern part of this county near the Indian line. We have the following particulars from the Hon. E. E. Hendersen, Superintendent of Public Instruction for this district, who returned last evening from a visit to Waldron, and passed through Chocoville yesterday as the murdered man was buried. On Saturday morning as the Rev. Mr. De Champ, of the Missionary Baptist Church at Chocoville, was about to open religious services, and while the congregation was still gathering, a ruffian named Handley entered the meeting-house, revolver in hand, and approaching the minister, asked him his name. On being told, Handley levelled his revolver at Mr. De Champ and fired four shots at him, three of which took effect in the head and one in the arm. The demoniac assassin then wheeled round, and levelling his revolver at the congregation, drove them out of the house with curses and imprecations and threats of death. The affrighted people of course hastily fled in every direction. The murderer then leaped upon his horse, tied close to the building, and galloped off. He has not yet been captured.

As to the cause of the murder, the following is told:—The man Handley, who has previously borne a notoriously bad character, some four years ago interrupted in the most scandalous manner a religious meeting at which the unfortunate De Champ officiated, for which offense the latter had him indicted before the Grand Jury, tried, and fined $50. Handley went off to Texas soon afterwards, where his deviltries also made it too hot for him, and from whence he returned recently, to imbrue his hands in the blood of a good man in the appalling manner stated. Great excitement exists all through the county at the fearful deed.

A TORNADO IN LOUISIANA.

Great Destruction of Property at Baton Rouge—Two Persons Killed, and Many Others Injured.

A tornado swept over Baton Rouge and vicinity on Tuesday, causing great destruction of property. Trees were uprooted, and bricks and planks whirled in the air. The north and south walls of the Penitentiary, the roof of the shoe factory, and the cells in the south wing of the building were blown away. The whole second story and roof of the storehouse of the United States Arsenal, with three hundred feet of the laboratory (a frame building), and the roof of one of the powder magazines, were rent in fragments.

The roof was torn from the Roman Catholic church. A number of frame houses were unroofed and otherwise damaged. The sugar-house and a number of cabins on the plantation of Joseph Barnard were blown down, and one negro was killed and several were wounded. The sugar-house, gin-house, and cabins on the plantation of James McCollen were all destroyed, and many colored persons were severely injured. The sugar-house and all the cabins on the plantation of W. S. Pike were blown down, and two colored men were killed and a number were wounded. Many boats and scows laden with coal were sunk. The loss will reach $400,000. During the storm some of the convicts escaped from the prison, but they were speedily recaptured.

PAINFUL INCIDENT OF THE WAR.

The Death of General Besson.

General Besson's death forms one of the most painful incidents of the French civil war. After the taking of the barricade on the 6th inst., he was riding at the head of two regiments along the high street leading to the Ternes Gate, when he saw an insurgent, who wore the uniform of a marine, taking aim at him from a window. He snatched a Chassepot from one of the soldiers nearest to him, and said, "I will bring down that scoundrel." But the words were scarcely out of his mouth when the insurgent's shot brought down the General, who fell dead with a bullet which went through his lungs. He was a pupil of St. Cyr, took part in many campaigns in Africa, was a major before Sebastopol, served as head of the staff of an army corps in Italy, and again as head of the staff of an army corps of the Army of the Rhine. He had only returned from captivity in Germany a few days before.

General Rossel.

PARIS, May 5—Friday noon.—Your correspondent saw General Rossel this morning. He complained of the erroneous statements published about him. He denied that he had demanded a commission from M. Thiers, and it was refused. Since the capitulation of Paris, the ties binding him with the army had been broken, and he remained at his post simply to finish the work he had in hand. For a long time past his convictions were antagonistic to the former social organizations of old France, which had just succumbed in such a cowardly manner.

Great Consternation

prevailed in the Quartier des Gobelins to-day respecting the three battalions captured at Moulin Sauquet, who all belong to that quarter.

The Sitting of the Commune was stormy yesterday.

The chief of the staff of the flotilla has been arrested on the charge of deceiving the Commune in regard to the quantity of stores in the ships under his charge.

VERSAILLES, May 5.

Jules Favre and Quertier,

Minister of Finance, have started to meet Prince Bismarck at Frankfort. It is thought the cause of the meeting has reference to money matters. The truth is that have telegraphed the Versaillists that if they do not enter Paris by Monday the Prussians will on Tuesday. M. Favre hopes to gain an extension of time, but he is unlikely to succeed. It is probable that the Prussians will if they enter. MM. Favre and Simon are likely to resign shortly, in consequence of the dissensions in the Assembly.

There was no firing to-day, but it will begin from Montretout to-morrow. It is believed that a

Grand Attack will be Made on Sunday night. The troops are in excellent condition.

Moulin Sauquet was taken by a stratagem. A sergeant, dressed in a blouse, pretending to be a drunken National, cut down the sentry, and before there was time to give an alarm the rest rushed in. Nearly 1000 Prisoners were Taken Yesterday.

Release of Prisoners.

PARIS, May 6.—The Commune has ordered the immediate release from confinement of the commandant at Fort Vincennes, recently arrested on suspicion of disloyalty to the Paris authorities.

The New Minister of War,

General Rossel, is unpopular with the Commune. The commandant of Fort d'Issy has been dismissed by General Rossel for insubordination.

Prussian Protests.

The German commander, General von Der Tann, has, in a communication to the Commune, protested against the excess of two hundred troops in the garrison of Fort Vincennes.

The Prussians still intercept the passage of provisions intended for Paris, and refuse any explanation of the cause of this action.

VERSAILLES, May 6.—There was

Cannonading Last Night.

This morning there were several engagements in the trenches and some prisoners was taken.

All the means of communication between the insurgents in Forts d'Issy and Vanvres have been destroyed, the Government works being completed despite the heavy fire kept up by the Communist batteries.

The Supplementary Elections to fill vacancies in the Assembly have been postponed until after the surrender of Paris.

House.

A resolution to adjourn to 8 o'clock Monday evening, after much debate, was adopted.

Mr. Smith, of Philadelphia, presented a resolution authorizing the clerk to pay express charges on all packages of books and documents forwarded to members.

An amendment to confine the expense to $360 was voted, and the resolution passed.

The following bills were passed:—

Act to vacate a portion of Sixth street, city of Chester.

An act for the draining of wet and swampy lands.

An act providing for collection of mineral statistics.

The bill repealing the Philadelphia Building Commission was received from the Senate and referred to Committee on Municipal Corporations.

Wednesday evening next was fixed for consideration of Senate bill providing for cumulative voting in boroughs.

The House concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to the bill providing for the publication of "Bates' History."

Mr. Johnston presented a bill in relation to railroad grades and crossings in cities and towns. Laid on the table.

JOE COBURN'S WIFE.

Her Death Said to be the Result of Hard Drinking—The "Little Accident" Won't Prevent the Prize-fight.

Yesterday Coroner Schirmer was notified of the awfully sudden death of Mrs. Joseph Coburn, whose spouse has been for some time past hardening his muscle to effectually spoil the beauty of Jem Mace's facial developments. Mrs. Coburn resided at the town house of her lord and master, at No. 306 East Fortieth street. Joseph was notified of his bereavement on Thursday, and came to the city last night to attend the funeral. A large number of the fancy were in waiting to receive him, and adjourned with him to the scene of his loss, where the wake was held with a due regard to the social status and reputation of the bereaved husband.

The backers and friends were for a time disconsolate, too—not at the untimely (in more sense than one) exit of the late lamented Mrs. Coburn, but because that lady should have chosen such a critical time to leave the world. Fears and sorrow were, however, considerably relieved when Joe, with a glistening eye, declared that this little inopportune accident should not interfere with the match between himself and Jim Mace, and that he would fight the latter if all the wives in America drank themselves to death. This announcement was hailed with universal joy.

The lady, it appears, died of a disorder known as "alcoholism," which, literally translated, means that she drank herself to death.—N. Y. Standard.

News from Red River.

TORONTO, Ontario, May 6.—Red River advices to the 15th of April have been received. The Lieutenant-Governor was about sending twenty persons around the boundaries of the province to parley with the Indians and assure them that a treaty would be made with them for their lands when the lands are needed, and urge them not to come in this season expecting a treaty. Some difficulty will be experienced in freighting to and from Manitoba, owing to the prevailing cattle disease, which attacks the mouth and feet. Neither horses or cattle are allowed to pass through the States from Ontario to Winnipeg; all freighting must be done by the Minnesota lines. Representations have been made to the authorities which may result in the exemption of horses and cattle of Manitoba from this regulation. Parliament is busy till ten every night. A bill regulating the police force and making many changes for the better will be introduced next week. The Government will bring down their homestead bill.

It will be one of the most liberal measures on the Continent. Land, houses, cattle, etc., will be protected from creditors. Contractors for repairing the main highway will finish their work in a few days, in anticipation of immigration, and several new and substantial bridges have been built. The spring is backward and cold, and the influenza is prevalent to an extraordinary degree.

Emigration Further Far West.

STRATHROY, May 6.—An advance party of ten families, who intend emigrating to Manitoba, left to-day, being the first departure from this section for the newly-acquired territory. NATIONAL BOND INDORSEMENT.

Does an Indorsement on a National Bond Destroy its Negotiable Character?

The First National Bank of New Albany, Ind., held thirteen seven-thirty bonds of $1000 each. These bonds were in blank. On the back was printed "Pay to Bearer." The cashier of the bank, desiring to have them exchanged for other bonds, indorsed them, "Pay to the Secretary of the Treasury for redemption," and delivered them to Adams Express Company to take to Washington. They were stolen from Adams Express Company, and one of them found its way to England, where it was bought up by the agent of the defendants, Duncan, Sherman & Co. The agent inserted Duncan, Sherman & Co.'s name on the face of the bill, and drew his pen over the indorsement. Duncan, Sherman & Co. presented it for redemption, but it was rejected, the bank having filed a caveat. The bank sued Duncan, Sherman & Co. to recover the bond.

The action came up in the Common Pleas yesterday before Chief Justice Dully, Judges Robinson and Larremore. The plaintiffs insist that the endorsement took the bond entirely out of the character of negotiable paper, dedicated it to particular use, and made it no longer negotiable. On the part of the defendants it is claimed that no payee being named on the face of the note or bond, under well-settled mercantile law the endorsement was a nullity, and the bill or bond good in the hands of whosoever might honestly get it, and that in any case the endorsement might be erased, and the original endorsement, "To bearer," left valid, erasing at the same time the liability of the endorser and his control of the paper. Decision reserved.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

EVENING TELEGRAPH OFFICE,
Saturday, May 6, 1871.

In the Philadelphia money market there is a very sharp demand for call loans to meet the wants of the brokers, who are having a very lively time in a succession of scoops which have been managed with unusual adroitness, and with large profit to themselves. The money supply, however, is quite large and much in excess of current wants, making rates easy at 5@6 per cent. on call, and 6@7 per cent. on prime discounts. Good paper having three or four months to mature is in high favor at the banks and scarce.

Gold is quiet and steady, with the sales ranging from 111@111¼, closing at 111⅛.

Government bonds are dull and steady, the prices remaining at last night's quotations.

At the Stock Board there was an active demand and a large business transacted. Sales of State 6s, first series, at 104, and second do. at 107½. City 6s sold freely at 103@103¼ for the new certificates, and at 103 for the old do.

Reading Railroad was steady, with sales at 56⅝. Pennsylvania sold at 63@63½; Philadelphia and Erie at 28¼@28⅝; Lehigh Valley at 62¾; Camden and Amboy at 125½@125¾, and Northern Central at 42¾. Oil Creek and Allegheny was very active but weak, prices falling off from 52½@51¾.

Canal shares were in demand but inactive. Small sales of Lehigh at 34½.

In Bank stocks we notice sales of Mechanics' at 32½@32¾, and Third National at 114.

Among the Passenger Railroad shares there were several sales of West Philadelphia at 68; Chesnut and Walnut at 51, and large sales of Hestonville at 21⅝@22.

Big Mountain Coal sold at 6½.

—The progress of the new United States loan is shown by the following communication from the Treasury Department:—

Philadelphia Trade Report.

SATURDAY, May 6.—The movements in Seeds are unimportant, and prices of Clover and Timothy are nominal. Small sales of Flaxseed at $2·10 per bushel, at which figure it is wanted by the crushers.

No 1 Quercitron Bark is held at $30 per ton, without sales. Chesnut and Spanish Oak Bark sell at $17@21 per cord.

The Flour market continues very dull, the inquiry being confined almost exclusively to the wants of the local trade. Shippers are holding off. Sales of 800 barrels, including superfine at $5·25@5·75; extras at $5·75@6·25; spring wheat extra family at $6·75@7·25; Indiana and Ohio do. do. at $7@7 50, Pennsylvania do. do. at $6·25@6·75; and fancy brands at $7·75@8·75. No change in Rye Flour or Corn Meal. Small sales of the former, which is scarce, at $5·75. Prices of the latter are nominal.

The movements in Wheat are of a very limited character. Small sales of Western red at $1·55@1·60; amber at $1·60@1·67; and white at $1·70@1·80. Rye may be quoted at $1·20. Corn is dull, and barely maintains present quotations. Sales of yellow at 77@78c. and mixed Western at 75@76c. Oats are unchanged. Sales of Pennsylvania and Western at 62½@64c.

Whisky is held firmly. Sales of 100 barrels Ohio iron-bound at 93c.

"JUNIUS" IDENTIFIED.

From the N. Y. Times.

So many important questions constantly arise the solution of which depends on the identification of handwriting, that anything throwing fresh light on the subject has positive value. The title to property is often at issue on such points, and the identification of literary remains frequently depends upon a scientific analysis of which very few are capable. There are, to be sure, a great many persons employed in banks or in lithography who are commonly styled "experts," and who are popularly esteemed trustworthy authority in chirographic matters. But the degree in which their opinions can be depended upon is usually overrated. Mr. Twistleton, who has given deeper attention to the matter than any literary man who ever wrote upon it, says that the number of real "experts" in London during the last fifty years has been very few; and that—limiting the application of the term to persons whose skill is recognized and deferred to in the highest courts of justice—there are now only two "experts" in that city, namely, Mr. Chabot and Mr. Netherclift. The former gentleman, at the instance of Mr. Twistleton, lately made an elaborate investigation of the handwriting of the famous "Junius," with the result, formally assented to in a long and thoughtful article in the April Quarterly Review, of establishing the identity of "Junius" with Sir Philip Francis. Some of the steps of the demonstration are so curious as to make it desirable to recite them. The letters of "Junius" began in the Public Advertiser, January 21, 1769. They have been ascribed, with more or less plausibility, to no fewer than fifteen persons; but the bulk of intelligent opinion has always inclined to Francis. Still, this has only remained highly-probable surmise. Positive proof has been lacking. And it has seemed that the celebrated boast of "Junius"—that he was the sole depository of his own secret, and that it should perish with him—was destined to be literally verified. A conspicuous link in the chain of proof that, in the judgment of Mr. Twistleton and the Quarterly Review, explodes this anticipation, we will briefly set forth.

Just one hundred years ago, that is to say, in 1770, or 1771, Sir Philip, then Mr. Francis, was on a visit to his father at Bath. At the Assembly Rooms in that then highly fashionable city he danced on more than one evening with a Miss Giles, a brilliant young lady, whose father was afterward Governor of the Bank of England. It was the custom at balls at that time for a lady to keep the same partner for the whole evening; and so it fell out with this pair. Subsequently Miss Giles received an anonymous note, inclosing some complimentary verses. The note was in one handwriting, the verses in another. Both still exist, and have been in the hands of Mr. Twistleton, Mr. Chabot, and Mr. Netherclift. Now it is declared by all three to be absolutely certain that the Anonymous Note is in the handwriting of "Junius." This being so, and as Francis had evidently sent it, it was at first taken for granted that the Anonymous Verses were in the natural handwriting of Francis. The most singular and interesting part of the story follows. Mr. Chabot, after deep study, came to the conviction, not only that Francis could not have written the verses, but that the two—the verses and the note—could not possibly have been written by the same hand. This conclusion was opposed to the views of Mr. Chabot's employer; and, as the Quarterly says, the case which the expert had been called in to support seemed to have broken down in consequence of his evidence. The intrinsic value of that evidence, and certainly the independence with which it was given, may therefore in some measure be inferred. Mr. Twistleton assented to the professional opinion—we may suppose with some reluctance. Yet it led him to a fortunate trail. The question was,—If Francis did not write the verses, who did? A life of Francis had just been published, and mention was found in it that his cousin and familiar associate, Mr. Richard Tilghman, was with him in Bath at the time the note was sent to Miss Giles. It struck Mr. Twistleton that Francis might have got his cousin to act as an amanuensis. Now, in the Letter Book of Francis there are, happily, six letters addressed to Francis by Tilghman. These, with the verses, were now submitted to Mr. Chabot; and he soon gave in his unhesitating conviction that the verses were in Tilghman's handwriting. This is pointed out to be quite characteristic of Francis. He would never put his own natural handwriting side by side with that of "Junius." Addressing Miss Giles in a disguised hand, he naturally adopted the style which he had been so freely using; and as naturally got his cousin, who probably never saw the note, to copy the verses. This hypothesis is further sustained by the fact that Tilghman, who was a native of Philadelphia, and wrote from that city, refers to the verses in one of his letters, and, indeed, quotes a couplet from them.

This interesting circumstances is but one of a number of remarkable corroborations, arrived at with vast labor and research, that are held to establish beyond all doubt the identity of "Junius" with Sir Philip Francis. The Quarterly congratulates Mr. Twistleton on having produced a book which "settles once for all the long-disputed controversy respecting the authorship of the Junian letters," and which is, moreover, "the only work which has yet appeared in the English language conveying systematic instruction on the comparison of handwritings."

Every imaginable adverse theory is successively taken up and disposed of, and certainly the demonstration, even as conveyed in the condensed statements of the Quarterly, appears to be complete. It hardly needs to be pointed out that the result of this laborious investigation, interesting and important as it is, does not constitute the sole value of the report of it. The successive steps of the inquiry, and the proofs whereby each position has been fortified, will be of immense service henceforth to the antiquary and the lawyer. Like many other patient and indefatigable scientific processes, which, to the superficial eye, have only abstract or speculative significance, this inquiry will furnish valuable material for innumerable practical purposes in the future.

GENERAL GRANT'S KU-KLUX PROCLAMATION.

From the N. Y. World.

This insolent, obtrusive manifesto shows that Kaiser Ulysses is so puffed up with a sense of his despotic authority that he cannot await an occasion for its exercise. He brandishes it in the face of the country, as an Indian chief setting out in quest of victims swings his tomahawk in the air and fills the forest with his whooping yells in gloating anticipation of future opportunities. General Grant is forward to tell the country that the Ku-klux bill "applies to all parts of the United States, and will be enforced everywhere to the extent of the powers vested in the Executive." Why should he thus bully and threaten the whole country without the slightest pretext or provocation? General Grant declares that he "will not hesitate to exhaust the power thus vested in the Executive." Which means that he will go just as far as the Ku-klux bill will let him, stretching and straining the law to the utmost limit. And what is the authority which this upstart tyrant threatens to "exhaust?" It is authority to shut up the courts of justice, supersede the laws, make war upon citizens, suspend the habeas corpus, proclaim martial law, and put every man's life and liberty at the mercy of his arbitrary will. These are the powers which this modest President claims that he possesses "in all parts of the United States," and which he threatens to "exhaust" if he can find occasion. He is not content to let the sword rest in its scabbard until a necessity arises for its use; he makes haste to draw and flourish it in the eyes of unoffending citizens in sheer insolence and menace.

He is perhaps incensed by General Sherman's emphatic statement, in his speech at New Orleans the other day, that the Ku-klux bill is needless and foolish. But whether the proclamation is a mere counterblast to General Sherman, or is an unprovoked and self-prompted menace, it is such a document as none of General Grant's predecessors would have given to the public.

No President who respected republican institutions could show such alacrity in threatening the whole country that he meant to "exhaust" the temporary power to suspend the habeas corpus if he could get an opportunity. The fact that Congress trusts him with this power only till the end of its next session, is a confession that the power is extraordinary and unsafe; that it is fit to be exercised only in a great emergency; that it is like the reserve of an army which is kept back and never ordered to take part in an engagement till the troops in front begin to waver. But General Grant, instead of regarding these extraordinary powers as a reserve, to be used only as a last resource, thrusts them forward while as yet no enemy has appeared. Instead of using them as a final resort to supplement and support the ordinary execution of the laws, he makes indecent haste to parade them when as yet he can point to no fact since the passage of the Ku-klux bill which requires him to set in motion even the ordinary judicial machinery. The bill is bad enough at best, but General Grant attempts to execute it wrong end foremost. The proper order of proceeding is, first, to wait till a case arises under the law; then to instruct the District Attorney of the locality to prosecute the offenders in the appropriate court; thirdly, to see that the Marshal executes the sentence of the court if the parties are found guilty; and finally, if the Marshal is resisted by a combination too powerful for him and his posse to withstand, to make the proclamation required by law and support the Marshal by troops. But General Grant reverses this legal order of procedure. He is so impatient to exercise arbitrary power that he issues a proclamation before any offense is committed of which the Government can take cognizance under the new law. As the Constitution prohibits ex post facto laws, the Ku-klux bill cannot apply to acts committed previous to its passage; and since its passage nothing has been done even to justify a warrant of arrest or an indictment by a grand jury. The proclamation is an impertinence, because it has no facts to go upon; and instead of applying to any State or district in rebellion it is brandished as a threat in the face of the whole people of the United States. To threaten the peaceful citizens of thirty-seven States, guilty of no crime, with martial law and a suspension of that sacred guarantee of personal liberty, the writ of habeas corpus, is a gratuitous and wanton insult which a loyal, law-abiding President would never offer. It may sometimes be necessary in desperate cases to administer nauseous medicines; but that is no reason why a physician should hold assafœtida under the nose of every well man he meets. All that the Ku-klux bill says about proclamations is in its fourth section, which we here copy:—

"Section 4. That whenever in any State, or part of a State, the unlawful combinations named in the preceding section of this act shall be organized and armed, and so numerous and powerful as to be able, by violence, to either overthrow or set at defiance the constituted authorities of such State, and of the United States within such State, or when the constituted authorities are in complicity with, or shall connive at, the unlawful purposes of such powerful and armed combinations; and whenever, by reason of either or all of the causes aforesaid, the conviction of such offenders and the preservation of the public safety shall become in such district impracticable, in every such case such combinations shall be deemed a rebellion against the Government of the United States, and during the continuance of such rebellion, and within the limits of the district which shall be so under the sway thereof, such limits to be prescribed by proclamation, it shall be lawful for the President of the United States, when in his judgment the public safety shall require it, to suspend the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus, to the end that such rebellion may be overthrown: Provided, that all the provisions of the second section of an act entitled "An act relating to habeas corpus, and regulating judicial proceedings in certain cases," approved March 3, 1863, which relate to the discharge of prisoners other than prisoners of war, and to the penalty for refusing to obey the order of the court, shall be in full force so far as the same are applicable to the provisions of this section: Provided, further, that the President shall first have made proclamation, as now provided by law, commanding such insurgents to disperse: And provided, also, that the provisions of this section shall not be in force after the end of the next regular session of Congress."

Now, be it observed, that the timing of a proclamation by the President, the area or district to which it must relate, and the general tenor of its substance, are all defined by law, and that General Grant's proclamation conforms to none of the requirements either of time, place, or matter. The time prescribed for the issuance of a proclamation is after the ordinary machinery of justice has failed; the area included in the proclamation must be limited to some State or portion of a State; the prescribed matter and substance of the proclamation is first to define the boundaries of the district within which the laws are successfully resisted, and secondly to warn the illegal combinations to disperse within a given time. But General Grant's proclamation is in advance of any resistance to judicial process; it relates to the whole country, and not to any particular insurgent district; and it does not warn the Rebels to disperse, because none have assembled. General Grant, without any occasion or excuse, insolently cracks his military whip over the heads of the peaceful people of thirty-seven States.

ROME AT HOME AND ABROAD.

From Harper's Weekly (Edited by Geo. Wm. Curtis.)

Cardinal Bellarmine said that the Pope "hath a full power over the whole world, both in ecclesiastical and civil affairs, and that to question it was a detestable heresy." Pope Paul the Second told the ambassador of Queen Elizabeth that "England was held in fee of the apostolic see," and Pope Pius the Fifth assumed to excommunicate and depose her. This was the Gregorian theory of the scope of ecclesiastical power. From the premises of the Roman Church it is strictly logical. And although within the last century the claim has been relaxed by certain Romish universities, and was even proscribed by Pope Pius the Sixth, the order to which Bellarmine belonged, the Jesuits, has never relinquished the hope and the purpose of declaring it again; and when its ascendancy in the Church was secured it called the Œcumenical Council and proclaimed the Papal infallibility.

The essential absurdity of the declaration in view of the history of the Church is shown, indeed, in this, that if the Pope as Pope be infallible, he has always been so, as the infallibility does not begin with Pius the Ninth. But if he has always been so, the Church must have believed it and taught it. Yet, as Archbishop Purcell said in the Council, "Every one knows that the Council of Lyons, after the Council of Florence, examined the question of the Pope's infallibility, but they did not see their way through; they could not find sufficient evidence in Scripture or tradition to define the personal, independent, separate, absolute infallibility of the Pope; therefore they laid the question aside." And in 1788 the great Romish universities of the Sorbonne, Louvain, Douay, Alcala, and Salamanca expressly declared that it was no matter of faith to believe the Pope infallible. But the Jesuits carried their point. It might be absurd, but it was logical, and it was desirable. Moreover, when it was promulgated, absurdity would be no impeachment of it, for a true ecclesiastical faith absorbs the incredible. The Papal infallibility was proclaimed, and the Roman Pontiff was restored to the position which Bellarmine had claimed for him.

But the position of the Roman Church is extraordinary. Within the year in which the civil power of the Pope was declared he was removed from that power by members of his own communion. In his own political capital—in Rome itself—the Government, composed of his fellow-churchmen, propose the separation of Church and State. In Austria the Government, also of his own Church, has forbidden the priests to meddle with the schools, and it rebuked the Pope when he protested. The greatest theologian and divine of the Church, Dr. Dollinger, and its greatest orator, Father Hyacinthe, have each protested against the decree of infallibility. The King of Bavaria, a Roman Catholic, has signified his sympathy with Dr. Dollinger; and Baron von Stauffenberg, a delegate from Bavaria in the German Parliament, also a Roman Catholic, states that the Bavarian Constitution distinguishes between purely religious and purely secular concerns, and says that before long the question may be asked which is the true Catholic Church?

But the most striking fact of all is that, while the most vigorous protest against the action of the Vatican Council, virtually claiming for the Pope the civil allegiance of every member of his Church in the world, proceeds from Roman Catholics in the European monarchies, the most unanimous and servile acquiescence in it is found among the Romanists of the American republic. This acquiescence is so complete that they have, with one exception in the priesthood, and he was peremptorily silenced, bitterly denounced the peaceful revolution in Rome which has placed the Government in the hands of the Romans. And still more significant and important is the fact that the political party in this country which claims by its name, Democratic, to be peculiarly the party of the peoples, allies itself with this Roman Catholic element, and it is because of this alliance that Father Hecker and the priests whom Mr. Parton mentions cherish the warmest hopes of the supremacy of their Church in this country—a supremacy which would necessarily be the overthrow of free popular government. In 1800 the Roman Catholics were about one-seventeenth of the whole population. In 1870 they were one-sixth. In 1900 they hope to be one-third.

This population is mainly of foreign birth, or of one or two removes. It has necessarily no strong American feeling. It is, with signal and admirable exceptions, an ignorant and superstitious population. It is compact and obedient to ecclesiastical leaders. Those leaders truly say with Byron, although in another sense, "O Rome, my country!" They live for one object—the supremacy of their Church. They understand the methods of acquiring and maintaining it. Their purpose is relentless; their vigilance unsleeping. A political party, therefore, which, like the Democratic, has sustained itself upon ignorance, class hatred, and prejudice, steadily disregarding the moral law and the American doctrine of liberty, finds this rapidly increasing multitude exactly suited to its purposes. It has, as a class, no American instincts, little intelligence, and all the passions of ignorance; and by pandering to its desires the party can secure its vote. Hitherto the political policy of this Church in this country has been the assault upon the public school system. Wherever that has been made, it has been made by the Democratic party, and, as the consideration of that and other favors, that party has had the Roman Catholic vote.

This is a fact too conspicuous and significant to be disregarded. The success of the Democratic party would be that of the Roman Catholic policy in this country; for the party could not safely alienate the Roman vote, while it could be retained only by the strictest obedience to ecclesiastical dictation. So true is this that there can be no question if the Roman interest demanded that, pending the overthrow of the school system in this State by Democratic aid, the schools in this city, now under Democratic control, should be supplied with histories satisfactory to that interest, they would be furnished. The dependence of the Democratic party at this moment is upon the Ku-klux feeling both in the Northern and Southern States, and the Roman Catholic vote. Let every American citizen consider what that implies.

THE SITUATION OF THE POPE.

From the N. Y. Sun.

It is an impressive fact that the only powerful government in Europe which has shown any disposition to speak a good word in behalf of the Pope, or to take any measures to assuage the painfulness of his position, is the Protestant Government of Prussia. Prince Bismarck has lately appealed to the Italian Cabinet to be as kind and easy with the venerable Pontiff as possible, and has received from Florence the assurance that the utmost respect towards the head of the Catholic Church will constantly be shown by the Government of Italy. This assurance is also fortified by the passage in the Italian Parliament of a bill guaranteeing to the Pope about all the privileges and immunities which could be expected from a popular legislative body.

On the other hand, Austria, which for the past half century has been one of the bulwarks of Catholicity, has now fallen away from her fidelity. Not only is the concordat, which settles the relations between the Papal See and the Imperial Government in a manner satisfactory to the former to be abrogated, but the Ministry have announced in the Parliament their intention to propose some sort of declaration against the recently proclaimed dogma of Papal infallibility. Should such a declaration be adopted, Austria under Francis Joseph will become as decidedly a schismatic country as England became under Henry VIII.

The apparently desperate condition of that party among the Roman Catholics of the world who adhere to the temporal power of the Pope, notwithstanding it has been overthrown by the resistless force of events—and we lament to say that this party comprises everywhere an immense majority of the Roman Catholics—is well illustrated by the appeal which the principal Catholics of Belgium have lately addressed to M. Thiers. They ask him to interfere for the restoration of the temporal power. As this could only be accomplished by sending powerful armies into Italy, and as M. Thiers has not troops enough to secure for him an entrance into the capital of his own country, this petition of the Belgian Catholics is almost mournful in its absurdity. It is not impossible that if Thiers were strong enough in France he might once more repeat the traditional fault which has so long been practised by the rulers of that country. They have always attended to other people's business, and weakened France by expending her strength in the regulation of foreign nations; and there are good reasons to believe that Thiers would be willing to repeat the folly. But circumstances put it entirely out of his power; and in all human probability Italy will be so consolidated and so assured in the possession of Rome by the time France is once more free to act, that it will be impossible to regain for the Papacy the territorial possessions and political power of which it has now been deprived.

A valuable Indian compound, for restoring the health, and for the permanent cure of all diseases arising from impurities of the blood, such as Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Cancer, Salt Rheum, Pimples and Humors on the Face, Ulcers, Coughs, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Pains in the Side, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Costiveness, Piles, Headache, Dizziness, Nervousness, Faintness at the Stomach, Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Female Weakness, and General Debility.

This preparation is scientifically and chemically combined, and so strongly concentrated from roots, herbs, and barks, that its good effects are realized immediately after commencing to take it. There is no disease of the human system for which the VEGETINE cannot be used with PERFECT SAFETY, as it does not contain any metallic compound. For eradicating the system of all impurities of the blood, it has no equal. It has never failed to effect a cure, giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease. Its wonderful effects upon these complaints are surprising to all. Many have been cured by the VEGETINE that have tried many other remedies. It can well be called

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

EXECUTRIX'S PEREMPTORY SALE.—Estate of Hanson Robinson, dec'd.—Thomas & Sons, Auctioneers.—Very Elegant Country Seat and Farm known as "Woolton Hall," Mansion, Farm, and Tenant Houses, 50 acres, Philadelphia and Wilmington Turnpike, Brandywine Hundred, New Castle county, Del., 3 squares from Bellevue Station, on the Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore Railroad, half mile from the River Delaware, 3 miles from Wilmington, 9 miles from Chester, and 23 miles from Philadelphia. On Tuesday, May 16, 1871, at 12 o'clock, noon, will be sold at public sale, without any reserve whatever, at the Philadelphia Exchange—

All that very elegant country-seat and farm, comprising 50 acres of land, situate on the westerly side of the Philadelphia and Wilmington turnpike and on two private roads, three fronts, about 9 miles below Chester, 3 above Wilmington, 23 from Philadelphia, half mile of the river Delaware, and about 3 squares from Bellevue Station, on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad. The improvements are an elegant and spacious three-story stone mansion, main building 49 by 48 feet, extreme length 91 feet, and circular piazza and portico around three sides of it; constructed on the castellated style of architecture, being built in the most substantial manner throughout; has large hall in the centre, saloon parlor, conservatory, dining-room, library, kitchen, scullery, store and china room, and fire-proof safe on the first floor; 4 commodious chambers (each having a bath-room and marble-top stationary washstand, hot and cold water, water-closet) on the second floor; 4 chambers, 2 bath-rooms, and 2 water-tanks (which are supplied by 2 hydraulic rams—one of the tanks will contain 1800 gallons of spring water on the third floor, and an observatory above. Balconies, with windows opening to them from all the rooms; private stairway, numerous closets (including cedar and wine), stained glass windows, marble mantels, walls and ceilings beautifully frescoed, handsomely papered and painted, gas (with handsome fixtures) and water throughout, 5 bath-rooms, water-closets, bell-calls, 2 furnaces, cooking range, etc.

A genteel 2½-story stone farm house, two-story stone tenant house, stone stable and carriage house (Norman style), stalls for five horses; stone ice house, filled, with a keeping-room for provisions; frame tool house, stone and frame barn, gas house, built of stone, complete arrangement for making gas, the operation very simple; frame chicken house, 6 acres of woodland, a rivulet of pure spring water runs through it, and collected by a small dam, and carried 225 feet through iron pipes into the ram box, the surplus flowing into the pond; also a fish pond, beautiful stone wall on the turnpike front, capped with North river flagging; very elegant Osage orange hedge, forms a beautiful curve around the front lawn; the gravel drives about half-a-mile in length, ranging from 10 to 20 feet wide; are thoroughly made, paved with large stones and covered with broken stones and gravel, and underground drainage; large vegetable garden, beautiful lawn, in the centre of which is a handsome iron summer house, surrounded by beautiful trees; abundance of fruit trees, apple orchard, etc.; also, 416 beautiful and well-grown forest and evergreen trees on the sides of the drives and around the mansion.

This property was built by the late Hanson Robinson, for his own occupancy, and no expense has been spared to make it a very elegant and finished country seat, all the materials being of the best, and the grounds beautifully laid out. The mansion is located in the centre of an extensive lawn, elevated ouer 200 feet above the river Delaware, and commands a beautiful and extended view up and down the river and surroundings.

The location is especially healthy. Photographs, plans, and pamphlets, containing more full particulars, may be seen at the Auction Rooms, Philadelphia, or at the office of Samuel M. Harrington, Esq., Attorney for the Executrix, second story, building, Seventh and Market streets, Wilmington, Delaware, where any one wishing to view the premises can get a conveyance. Trains leave Philadelphia at 8·30 and 11 A. M., and 2·30, 5, and 7 P. M. for Bellevue Station. The house and premises will be ready for inspection at all times. On Tuesdays and Fridays of each week a carriage will be at Bellevue Station on the arrival of 11 A. M. and 2·30 P. M. trains from Philadelphia, to convey visitors to the property.

Terms of Sale.—Two-thirds of the purchase money may remain on the premises, to be secured, with interest, etc., by bond and mortgage, with policy of fire insurance transferred as collateral.

Immediate possession. $1000 to be paid at time of sale.

NEWS SUMMARY.

City Affairs.

—The peace festival parade will be inaugurated by a salute in the morning, and on the parade Mayor Fox has promised the attendance of 500 policemen. The Germen milkmen will also participate in the parade.

—Dr. John S. Parry read a paper before the Social Science Association last evening, on "Infant Mortality." He presented some startling figures. From the statistics of mortality it is ascertained that 63·61 per cent. of those dying under five years died before the first year had been reached. He also affirmed that the percentage of inquests on children under one week old has increased since 1863, having attained to 17½ per cent. in the first three months of 1871. In other words, nearly one-fifth of all the inquests made by the Coroner were upon infants under one week old, and in the opinion of the Coroner a large proportion of these were infanticides.

—Several cases of relapsing fever made their appearance in the Sixth ward yesterday in this city.

—The Boston "Red Stockings" play the champion Athletics, on the grounds of the latter, in this city, this afternoon.

Domestic Affairs.

—The census returns are not yet quite complete.

—Galveston, Texas, is to be quarantined on and after the 10th inst.

—It is thought probable that there will be a full Senate on Wednesday next.

—The Joint High Commission will probably not sign the treaty until Tuesday next.

—Dr. A. K. Hoffman, father of the Governor of New York, died yesterday afternoon at Sing Sing.

—About one hundred workmen are now engaged in improving and renovating the Capitol building at Washington.

—The rain of the past few days has caused a freshet in the Hudson river, and some of the cities and towns situated on its banks, from Troy down to New York city, have suffered to some extent from inundation.

—The proposition made by the Scranton miners on Thursday has been rejected, and it now looks as though they will not only not get 86 cents per diamond car, instead of the $1·31, but that their laborers will most likely take their places in the mines.

Foreign Affairs.

—Bismarck has gone to Frankfort to confer with Favre.

—The bombardment before Paris continues with full vigor.

—The Commune, by decree, abolishes all political and professional oaths.

—There is little or no change to note in the position of the French belligerents.

—The British House of Lords has passed the bill for the protection of life in Ireland.

—The Freemasons of several of the cities of France are endeavoring to secure peace.

—The island of St. Germain, in the Seine, between Billancourt and Issy, has been taken by the Versailles forces.

—Negotiations for a compromise between the two factions in France are now progressing, and if they fail Marshal MacMahon will attempt to carry Paris by assault.

HEAVY DEFALCATION.

The Late Collector of the Eighteenth Pennsylvania District a Defaulter in the Amount of $31,000.

Yesterday District Attorney Swoope instituted proceedings in the United States Court against the sureties of Henry A. Guernsey, late Revenue Collector of the Eighteenth Collection District in this State. Mr. Guernsey was collector and disbursing agent, and gave a bond for one hundred thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties, Messrs. H. L. Diffenbach, S. R. Peale, A. C. Noyes, Robert Crawford, and Theodore Wright becoming his bondsmen. The bond given as disbursing agent was for ten thousand dollars, upon which Samuel Adams, P. W. Keller, and E. Bigony were the sureties. Guernsey's accounts were sent to Washington, and when they were examined it was found that the Collector's account showed a default of about $28,000, and the disbursing agent's account about $3000, making a total defalcation of $31,000. The suits were instituted against the Collector and his sureties on the official bond held by the Government.—Pittsburg Commercial, yesterday.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS.

On a Completed Road,

Free of U. S. Tax,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids, and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis, for temporary or permanent investments, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids, and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9¼ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Government pays at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for reinvestment.

All marketable securities taken in exchange, free of commission and express charges.

THE DEAD SECRET.

As the veracious reporters of Washington news have undertaken to describe all the provisions of the treaty with Great Britain framed by the Joint High Commission, while editors who are usually well posted declare in the most positive terms that the deliberations of the commissioners have been conducted with such unusual secrecy that no bona fide information of any kind has leaked out, the public hardly know what to believe; and in the absence of any direct revelation of the text of the treaty, it is probable that newspaper readers have so far only been beguiled with conjectures more or less accurate. It is gratifying to know, however, that a comprehensive treaty has been framed, and the fact that Great Britain consented to send so many of her prominent men to our national capital to have the treaty negotiated there indicates of itself so strong a disposition to consent to a satisfactory adjustment, that the treaty is probably very fair and equitable. English statesmen were never in a better mood for such a negotiation. Their old European alliances have been destroyed by a series of unexpected events; and while the relations of the United States with the two great European powers of the present epoch, Russia and Germany, have always been of the most friendly character, both these nations have standing grievances against the "tight little island" which are even more aggravating than our own. It is barely possible, if all these grievances remain unredressed, that these three great powers of the world, viz., the United States, Germany, and Russia, may take a notion some fine day to settle up old scores with England. Preposterous and Quixotic as such a notion may appear, abundant warrants for it could be found in the former policy of Great Britain; and if it ever should be decided upon, London might read her fate in the modern history of Paris and the British Empire find a parallel for her future in the history of France under Napoleon I and Napoleon III. Independent of the possibility of such a complication, there is the more probable conjecture that in the event of Germany or Russia waging war with England we would assist her armed enemies, as she assisted our armed enemies during the late war in this country, by furnishing them with war vessels, fitting out privateers, and destroying British commerce. Consequently the astute English statesmen of the present era have very good reasons for allaying, or attempting to allay, the smothered indignation of this country. It is their interest to make a speedy and satisfactory settlement with us, and to ward off from their own heads the dangers arising from their own precedents. As we ask for nothing, after all, that is not fair and just, and as the points of dispute have been so carefully canvassed that the statesmen of both countries ought to thoroughly understand them, it will be singular if all the circumstances referred to do not lead to a treaty satisfactory and honorable to both counties. And our own late military experience, while it demonstrated our power and endurance, still leaves behind such a vivid recollection of the sufferings of war that the public sentiment of the present day is more disposed to support an adjustment that diminishes the danger of future conflicts than the public sentiment of a future period will be, after the glories of armed strife are remembered and its horrors forgotten.

THE PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

The continuance or discontinuance of the present Building Commission is a comparatively small matter, except as it affects the progress of a great public enterprise in which future generations of Philadelphia are as much interested as the present one is. But the reopening of the controversy with regard to the site for the municipal and judicial offices is of serious consequence, and the abolition of the Building Commission by the Legislature will mean nothing else than the revival of a controversy that all fair-minded men considered as definitely settled by the vote of last October. The property-holders in the neighborhood of the present Row offices have left nothing undone, from first to last, to prevent the public buildings from being erected elsewhere than upon Washington Square. All the indignation against the intersection plan, all the charges of corruption and extravagance that have been made against the commissioners collectively and individually, and all the clamor about the rights of the people having been invaded, meant this and nothing more. The principal organ of the anti-Penn Squareites, after endorsing the scandalous commission bills introduced at the present session of the Legislature, took advantage of the public indignation against them to utter long tirades against the Building Commission, which, in a perfectly proper manner, was endeavoring to carry out the expressed wishes of a very large majority of the citizens of Philadelphia; and it has stopped at no charge that would be likely to make the commission unpopular with the public, although when called upon to make its charges good it has been utterly unable to do so. Finally, the anti-Penn Square Ring succeeded in inducing certain members of the Legislature—how our readers will not be at a loss to imagine—to adopt their views, and yesterday the Senate agreed to abolish the Building Commission, only two Senators, Messrs. Nagle and Brooke, voting in the negative. It has repeatedly been charged that the bill creating the commission was got through the Legislature by corrupt means, and it is not unfair, under all the circumstances of the case, to suppose that the same means were used to induce our virtuous lawmakers to undo their own work. The law for the creation of the commission passed the Senate at the last session by a nearly unanimous vote, Messrs. Nagle and Turner only opposing it on its final passage. It is rather curious, to say the least, that Mr. Nagle is this year one of the two Senators who have opposed the repeal of the law. Is Mr. Nagle the only incorruptible Senator?

If the House of Representatives concurs in the action of the Senate yesterday, a controversy of which the citizens of Philadelphia are heartily sick will be reopened, and the whole fight with regard to the site of the public buildings will have to be gone over again.

The men who are now opposing the commission mean to have the buildings erected either upon Washington or Independence Square, so that they may in the future, as they have in the past, enjoy a monopoly of the profitable business of letting offices. This is the whole meaning of the clamor against the commission that has been raised during the past six months, and it will be but a barren victory if this result is not obtained with the abolition of the commission. The preferences of the people of Philadelphia were expressed as plainly as possible in October, and it will be a gross outrage if the Legislature interferes to defeat the wishes of a vast majority of our citizens in the interests of a few selfish property-holders who are totally destitute of public spirit, and a few old fogies who have opposed this in the same manner that they have opposed every other scheme for the improvement of the city that has been started during the last fifty years. The action of the Legislature in leaving the choice of a site to the people themselves at a regular election gave entire satisfaction. It was a fair way to settle a controversy that otherwise promised to be unending; and the people having made their choice, the Legislature has no moral right to interfere further in the matter.

INVESTMENTS.

With the single exception of national loans, railroad bonds have been during the last half century the favorite investment in all markets. South Sea bubbles and John Lord schemes flourish at times and divert immense sums from the legitimate channels of industry; a nation's necessity sometimes, as in the case of our civil war, swallows up for a season the whole of the nation's surplus; but in normal times, when peaceful competition obtains, good railway securities always come to the front. It is estimated that no less than eight billions of dollars are invested in the railways of the world; and that the investment has been, on the whole, a paying one, is indicated by the fact that the last "East India six per cents" are quoted at 105 in the London markets, while in our own, to select leading instances, the Central and Union Pacific bonds are advancing briskly under a steadily increasing demand, the former selling at 100@102, and those of the Northern Pacific are being taken up rapidly all over the country. The claims of the two former are already appreciated by the public, but as the latter have just been placed upon the market, and are comparatively new to investors, it may be well to say a word or two in exposition of their claims.

The railroad upon which they are issued, extending from Lake Superior to Puget Sound, occupies what is undoubtedly the shortest line across the continent, and the one about which are clustered the greatest natural advantages. It is directly in the line of the great tides of commerce which flow east and west over the lakes; it brings New York, by water and rail, 600 miles nearer to the Pacific than any other line, and London 1400 miles nearer to Japan; it traverses the finest region on the American continent which yet remains unoccupied; and it is the loadstone which will surely draw the Northwestern British Provinces into the fold of our common Union. This road has been endowed by Congress with a land grant which foots up the enormous total of fifty millions of acres; and these, with the railway itself and all its property, are pledged as security for the Northern Pacific first mortgage bonds. These bonds, moreover, combine all the monetary features of the best national loans. They are payable in gold at the end of thirty years; they bear interest in gold at the rate of 7 3-10 per cent. per annum; they are printed in the currency of every country upon whose markets they are placed; and they bring a premium of 10 per cent. when exchanged for the company's lands.

At the price at which they are sold—par and accrued interest in currency—the bonds pay an income a third larger than that obtained from the Government 5-20s.

The Connecticut Election.—When the new Legislature of Connecticut appointed a committee to investigate alleged mistakes in the returns of the recent Gubernatorial election, the whole Democratic press of the country raised a howl, and asserted that English was to be counted out and the will of the people defeated. The indignation of the virtuous Democratic sheets reached the highest pitch when the corrections made in the vote by the committee reduced English's majority to three, and threw the election into the Legislature by reason of a dozen scattering votes. And now we may expect another outburst, as it is announced that a further investigation shows that Jewell, the Republican candidate, had been credited with one hundred votes in New Haven which he did not receive. This, of course, gives English a clear majority of nearly one hundred; but, then, the Democracy are so much opposed to tampering with errors that they will be deeply grieved by the result.

A number of highly respectable citizens have called upon us to state that The Telegraph made an unaccountable blunder yesterday in confounding William McMullen, Alderman, of this city, with William J. Mullen, our worthy Prison Agent. It is a rule of this office never to take back any expression of opinion. Mr. McMullen is quite as much the "Prisoner's Friend" as Mr. Mullen, if not more so. The work of one is the amelioration of the condition of the prisoner, and of the other to do away with the necessity of any such amelioration, that is to say, to prevent his becoming a prisoner at all. The Alderman makes a short cut in this generous rivalry, and it is a nice question if he is not the better "Friend" of the two. If there is any justice a-going, therefore, the statue must be that of our old friend Bill McMullen.

LEGAL NOTICES.

TO USERS OF SEWING MACHINES.—NOTICE.—The United States Court having decided that the shuttle-carrier used by the American Buttonhole Company infringes my patent, all persons who have used the sewing machine manufactured by the American Buttonhole Machine Company are hereby notified that they are liable to me for using the same, and they are requested to come forward and settle, at the rate of ten dollars per machine, for such infringement, or they will be prosecuted according to law.
CHARLES PARHAM,
5 5 6t No. 703 SANSOM Street.

IN ANSWER TO THE ABOVE ADVERTISEMENT of CHARLES PARHAM, we have to say, by advice of counsel:—
1. That Parham has never yet reached a final decree or obtained an injunction to restrain us from manufacturing and selling our machines.
2. That he must obtain such a decree in the Supreme Court at Washington, into which court his case has never yet been brought, before he can be justified in thus advertising.
3. That we will undertake the defense of, and will fully protect, all who have bought or shall buy our machines.
4. That we are abundantly able to do so; and
5. That we shall hold Charles Parham responsible for any unjustifiable interference with our rights, or those of our agents or our customers.

CHARLES PARHAM vs. THE AMERICAN BUTTON HOLE OVERSEAMING AND SEWING MACHINE COMPANY. In Equity.
Before Strong, Justice, and McKennan, Circuit Judge.
Extract of opinion as rendered:—
"Upon the whole case we are of the opinion"—
"That the Letters Patent reissued to the complainant are valid."
"That, so far as appears or is shown in the case, the complainant is the first and original inventor of the improvements described in the first and second claims of said Patent."
"That the respondents have committed infringements of both said claims."
"A decree will, therefore, be entered for an injunction and an account as prayed for."

The Knickerbocker Insurance Company.

The following report has been issued in reference to the affairs of this Company:—

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by law, and in accordance with an intention expressed in my annual report of 1870 to the Legislature of this State, I have made and caused to be made certain examinations into the affairs and condition of several of the insurance companies doing business in this State.

In the month of November, 1870, an examination of the books, accounts, assets, and general condition of the Knickerbocker Life Insurance Company of New York was instituted. That examination has just been completed, and although in the annual report referred to it was distinctly announced that "it need not be considered as an imputation upon the standing of any company that it is under examination," still, as it is claimed that an effort has been made to use the fact of the protracted investigation in this case, to the disadvantage of the company, I deem it due to the company and also to the public to make a report of the result of such examination.

The examination was not made in consequence of any specific charges against the company or its management, but in accordance with the general intention above referred to.

The Knickerbocker was organized in 1853, upon a capital of $100,000, and for the first ten years its progress was slow. Since 1863, however, its business has rapidly increased, until, as appears by the annual statement of the condition of the company, December 31, 1869, it had outstanding 22,078 policies, insuring the sum of $66,398,439, with aggregate assets of $6,686,965, and aggregate liabilities of $5,860,701.

There were but three companies organized under the laws of New York which reported a larger amount of business done or more assets. The business of the company was done on the "note" plan, and consequently quite a large portion of its assets consisted of premium notes.

It had been intimated that note companies were quite careless in regard to the accuracy of the statement of assets, and that notes were frequently included among the assets which were, in fact, given for premiums upon policies not in force, and hence of no value.

The Knickerbocker being a leading note company, it was thought best to make, at as early a date as practicable, a thorough investigation of all its affairs, with a view to settling this and other questions, at least so far as that company was concerned.

The examination made has been most extensive and exhaustive. All the notes, amounting in the aggregate to over 25,000 in number, have been separately examined, a full list made and compared with the entries in the books, and they have, without exception, been found to be notes given upon policies in force. All the other assets and accounts of the company have also been subjected to the closest scrutiny, and quite large amounts standing upon the books against agents have been disallowed, from which the company will no doubt be able ultimately to realize, but which are of so uncertain a value as to prevent their being allowed in my estimate of the condition of the company.

Notwithstanding the thorough sifting to which the assets of the company have been subjected, however, I am happy to be able to state that they amounted, on the first day of January, 1871, to the sum of $7,020,973·85, while the liabilities, including reserve fund and capital stock, amounted to $6,844,-996·26, leaving a surplus of assets over all liabilities of $175,977·59. This surplus, however, would be increased to $350,662·84 by including the amounts disallowed, as above stated, which are claimed by the company to be valid and available assets, thus showing the company to be entirely solvent, and entitled to the confidence of its policy-holders and the public.

It affords me much pleasure, also, to be able to state that the Company has adopted the policy of, as rapidly as possible, abandoning the "note" system and effecting insurances upon the all-cash basis, and that with this and other improved methods of business adopted, and the extensive business already established, the Company has every prospect of continued success.

Complaints have been made against this as well as other companies, of a want of fairness and liberality towards policy-holders, but so far as the facts appear, from my investigation, I find that the Knickerbocker has honorably and promptly met and discharged all legitimate claims, the gross sum paid for such claims upon policies since its organization amounting to $2,881,849·86, besides dividends paid to policy-holders amounting to $995,-424·85.

In view of all the facts disclosed, I feel warranted in saying that the Company is entitled to public confidence. GEORGE W. MILLER, Superintendent Insurance Department State of New York.

INJURIOUS EFFECT OF TOO MUCH FOOD.—Undoubtedly many of the ills that flesh is heir to, particularly in the vernal months, arise from the common practice of imposing upon the stomach more food than that organ can properly digest. Persons of sedentary habits are particularly liable to be injured by giving full scope to their appetites. By indulging at night and at other unseasonable hours in rich viands, cannot fail to produce indigestion, dyspepsia, skin diseases, and sometimes, when the system becomes overcharged with blood, that dangerous disorder, apoplexy. The habit of partaking of nocturnal meals rapidly alters the "tone" of the system and diminishes the solvent powers of the digestive organs.

Frequent and active exercise would work off the injurious effect arising from free living, but persons who thus indulge their appetites usually have no desire to exert themselves in the open air beyond the limited amount prompted by their inclination or business. The effects, too, of occupations upon the system are very apparent. The hardest manual labor in the open air has the influence of exercising a free circulation of the blood and produces a keen appetite, with a corresponding activity and promptness of digestion. The pale and sallow complexions of operatives in woollen mills, ivory-turners, and of many artisans, are an unfailing evidence that these pursuits are injurious to health, and when constantly engaged in them the poisoned atmosphere of the apartments often produces a fatal inflammation of the lungs.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, is an old and truthful saying. Therefore we advise all readers of THE TELEGRAPH who are troubled with the complaints now very prevalent—dyspepsia, headache, indigestion, disordered liver, want of appetite, nausea, or feverish skins—to take without delay Dr. SCHENCK'S Mandrake Pills. We know of no remedy so harmless and decisive in its action. It at once strikes at the root of the disease and produces a healthy tone to the system. These pills can be obtained of druggists throughout the country at twenty-five cents per box.

Readers of THE EVENING TELEGRAPH desiring to consult Dr. Schenck, Sr., or Dr. Schenck, Jr., for consumption or any other disease which their remedies—Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills—cure, can do so free of charge at their Principal Office, Sixth and Commerce streets, Philadelphia, any Saturday morning after 10 o'clock.

VEGETINE—SCROFULOUS HUMORS.—The Vegetine has cured many cases of Scrofula of five, ten, and twenty years' standing, where the patient has had many physicians, tried many of the known remedies, and, after trying the Vegetine, the common remark is, "It acts differently, works differently, from any medicine I have ever taken." Vegetine will cleanse Scrofula from the system. Try it.

COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.—That pleasant and active agent in the cure of all consumptive symptoms, "Wilbor's Compound of Pure Cod Liver Oil and Lime," is being universally adopted in medical practice. Sold by the proprietor, A. B. WILBOR, Chemist, No. 166 Court Street, Boston.

THE MOTHER CAN RELY UPON MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP to give rest and health to her child.

VEGETINE is sold by all druggists.

AN INTERESTING YARN.—The yarns now being spun are costing much higher than those recently manufactured, in consequence of which the prices of carpetings are likely to be advanced at an early day. We would therefore advise our readers who are obliged to purchase to be on the alert. The newest and most approved patterns in all grades of goods can be found at No. 1222 Chesnut street, Philadelphia. R. L. KNIGHT & SON.

THIS IS THE SEASON OF THE YEAR when the system should be thoroughly purged of the humors which create disease. There is no purgative or cathartic so mild and efficacious as HELMBOLD'S GRAPE PILLS, causing neither nausea or griping pains—as is the case with the ordinary cheap patent pills of the day—most of which are composed of calomel or mercury, and carelessly prepared by inexperienced persons. After thoroughly purging the system use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA, the Great Purifier, and they will insure new life, new blood, and renewed vigor. Try them. 5 3 wths7w

ALL POWDERS AND OUTWARD APPLICATIONS close up the pores of the skin, rendering it harsh, coarse, and flabby, and in a short time destroy the complexion. If you would have a Fresh, Healthy, and Youthful appearance, purge the system thoroughly; use HELMBOLD'S GRAPE PILLS and HELMBOLD'S SARSAPARILLA, which beautifies the complexion. Beware of those cheap patent pills, carelessly prepared by inexperienced persons—vended in wooden boxes—most of which contain either calomel, mercury, or other deleterious drugs. 5 3wths7w

5 1 9t M. B KEILY, Secretary.

IF YOU DESIRE A MILD, PLEASANT, safe, and agreeable Cathartic, which will cause neither nausea or griping pains, use Nature's remedy, HELMBOLD'S GRAPE PILLS. They are purely vegetable; their component parts being Catawba "Grape Juice and Fluid Extract Rhubarb." Should you desire a brilliant complexion, youthful appearance, new life, new fresh blood and renewed vigor, use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA. 5 3wthsTw

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA is the Great Blood Purifier; thoroughly cleanses and renovates the entire system, and readily enters into the circulation of the blood, after purging with HELMBOLD'S GRAPE PILLS, the foul humors that have accumulated in the system for years. Both are carefully prepared according to the rules of Pharmacy and Chemistry, and are thoroughly reliable. A test of 20 years has proved this. Try them. 5 3 wths7w

THE WANDERER'S RETURN.

Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God. Beloved, now are we the sons of God.—1 John iii, 1, 2.

The wanderer no more will roam,
The lost one to the fold hath come,
The prodigal is welcome home,
O Lamb of God, in Thee!

Though clad in rags, by sin defiled,
The Father hath embraced His child,
And I am pardoned, reconciled,
O Lamb of God, in Thee!

It is the Father's joy to bless,
His love provides for me a dress,
A robe of spotless righteousness,
O Lamb of God, in Thee!

Now shall my famished soul be fed,
A feast of love for me is spread,
I feed upon the children's bread,
O Lamb of God, in Thee!

Yea, in the fulness of His grace,
He puts me in the children's place,
Where I may gaze upon His face,
O Lamb of God, in Thee!

I cannot half His love express,
Yet, Lord! with joy my lips confess,
This blessed portion I possess,
O Lamb of God, in Thee!

It is Thy precious name I bear,
It is Thy spotless robe I wear,
Therefore, the Father's love I share,
O Lamb of God, in Thee!

And when I in Thy likeness shine,
The glory and the praise be Thine,
That everlasting joy is mine,
O Lamb of God, in Thee!

SUMMARY OF CHURCH NEWS.

EPISCOPAL.

—Bishop Lee, of Iowa, has felt compelled, by the canons of his Church, technically to "dispose" Rev. Dr. Cooper from the Episcopal ministry, carefully stating, however, that it was simply because of his voluntary withdrawal, and "not for causes affecting moral character."

—Dr. William Davidson, of Hamilton, Ohio, has been compelled to desist from ministerial labors for a time, on account of failure of health.

—The closing exercises of the Newberg Theological Seminary were held on the 18th and 19th of last month, in the presence of the Board of Superintendents. Nine students have been in attendance during the session.

—Dr. Beveridge, Professor of Theology in the Seminary at Xenia, has resigned his chair on account of the infirmities of age. He has been connected with the Seminary for thirty-six years.

—Mr. J. Owen Dorsey, a candidate for Holy Orders in the Diocese of Maryland, was ordained on Sunday, April 2, by Bishop Johns, and will soon leave for the Diocese of Nebraska, to take charge of a new work among the Ponka tribe of Indians.

—Bishop Randall, writing from New Mexico, says:—"My missionary funds are more than exhausted. The Domestic Committee have reduced their appropriation to this jurisdiction, and I have been compelled to cut down the stipend of missionaries already employed, and am left without a dollar wherewith to place a missionary in New Mexico, or to add one to the small number in Colorado and Wyoming."

—The Rev. Washington Rodman, of West Farms, N. Y., has been elected principal of the Mission House of the Protestant Episcopal Church, located in this city, and will enter upon his duties immediately.

—Rev. Joel F. Bingham, D. D., formerly a Presbyterian, and latterly pastor of a Congregational church at Augusta, Me., has been admitted to deacon's orders in the Episcopal Church at Hartford, Conn.

—Bishop Tuttle reports that his parish in Salt Lake City is self-supporting, and the work in other portions of Utah going on hopefully.

BAPTIST.

—The following letter written to the First Baptist Church, Philadelphia, by their pastor, although dated Mount Sinai, February 21, 1871, was mailed from Jerusalem thirty days later:—

Ever Dear Brethren:—Since writing you from Rome, mine eyes have gazed on many a memorable spot. I have crossed the blue Mediterranean, the scene of Jonah's recreancy and Paul's shipwreck. I have sojourned in the land of Egypt—the land of the mysterious and sacred Nile; the land of the mighty pyramids and sphinxes and temples; the land made memorable by the footsteps of Abraham and Jacob and Joseph, and the millions of the oppressed children of the covenant, and Moses; the land made dear to Christ's Church by the presence of Clement and Catharine and Origen and Athanasius and Augustine. I have crossed from Africa to Asia, the continent which gave me birth. I too have crossed the Red Sea, not indeed under guidance of pillar and cloud and fire, but under guardianship of Him who is evermore working the unnoted miracles of daily food and shelter, and friends and redemption. I have encamped at Elim, where were "twelve wells of water, and three score and ten palm trees." I have traversed the dreary Wilderness of Sin, where the children of Israel, almost frenzied with thirst and hunger, cried to Moses and Aaron, "Would to God we had died by the hand of Jehovah in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the flesh pots, where we did eat bread to the full; for ye have brought us forth into this Wilderness to kill this whole assembly with hunger." I have encamped in the Valley of Rephidim, where Israel, under the chieftaincy of Joshua, fought with Amalek, while Aaron and Hur held up the weary hands of Moses as stationed on one of the outhanging cliffs, he lifted up his great heart in prayer. And now to-night I am encamped before awful Sinai itself; even now mine eyes gaze on the sacred Mount, on which rested the Glory Cloud, from which proceeded the voice of the trumpet waxing exceeding loud; the mountain which heaved and quaked "because Jehovah descended on it in fire." I have scaled the august height itself, and stood trembling in the rift traditionally believed to be the "cleft of the rock" where Moses saw the glory of Jehovah sweeping by.

Oh, brethren, even amidst the bright anticipations of past years, I had hardly dared to hope that mine eyes would ever gaze on this majestic scene. But tarough the tenderness of our God and your own generosity, I am here in the wilderness of the wandering, with my tent pitched at the very foot of the awful height. Yet even amidst this scene of terrific majesty, I hear the still, small voice which speaks even louder than Sinai's whirlwind and earthquake: it is the still, small voice of Him with whom on another height, which I hope ere long to behold, Israel's Lawgiver and Prophet conversed concerning his approaching exodus. Heaven grant that the law may indeed be my school-master to lead me unto and keep me with Christ. For "this Mount Sinai in Arabia answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children; but Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all." God for Christ's sake grant, dear brethren, that all of us may be like Isaac, children of promise!

Amidst my wanderings, my heart fondly turns to you all. Specially do my petitions daily and almost hourly arise for the bereaved and sick and poor and aged and afflicted. I trust you have had a profitable fast-day. I long to hear from you. May God give me grace to walk in and out before you more humbly and faithfully. To the care of the Heavenly Shepherd I trustfully commit you all. Your affectionate pastor and brother,

GEORGE D. BOARDMAN.

—J. H. Castle, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church of West Philadelphia, has been granted a leave of absence from his church for a few months. He has labored faithfully for the church a number of years, and needed rest. He left this city on Wednesday, intending to sail from New York for Europe on Thursday morning, and will spend the summer months in travelling in different parts of Europe. The pulpit of the church will be regularly supplied from Sabbath to Sabbath.

—Some two hundred Baptist women in Boston have organized a Women's Baptist Missionary Society, to co-operate with the Missionary Union, on a plan similar to that of the society which co-operates with the American Board, and of our Women's Foreign Missionary Society. It is designed to make the society general, and to organize branches in all the Baptist churches.

—The "Baptist Hand-book," of London, reports for the United Kingdom a total of 2004 ministers, 2568 churches, 3093 chapels, and 233,675 members of the denomination. A loss is shown in the aggregate membership of 3760, and a decrease in the number of ministers of 500. After Great Britain, European Baptists are numerically strongest in Germany, where they have 72 churches and 13,509 members, and in Sweden, where there are 207 churches and 8120 members.

—The Baptists have seven schools for freedmen in the South, as follows:—The Wayland Seminary, at Washington; Colver Institute, Richmond, Va.; Shaw Collegiate Institute, Raleigh, N. C.; Benedict Institute, Columbia, S. C.; Augusta Institute, Augusta, Ga.; Leland University, New Orleans, La.; Nashville Institute, Nashville, Tenn. These schools, says the American Baptist, "have grounds and buildings valued at over one hundred thousand dollars, and are every cent paid for! With the exception of about ten thousand dollars' worth, this property was all secured and made sure to the Baptists during the year 1870."

—The old Broome Street Baptist Church, New York, is erecting a church, to cost $100,000, at Park avenue and Thirty-ninth street. The spire will be one hundred and ninety-five feet high, and will be surmounted by a cross six feet long.

—The Rev. Dr. D. C. Eddy has resigned the pastorate of the Warren Avenue Church, Boston, and accepts the call of the First Church, Fall River, Mass.

CONGREGATIONAL.

—The Congregationalists of Boston and vicinity have raised $150,000 for the purchase of an estate on Beacon street, to be converted to the uses of that denomination, and called the Congregational House—$50,000 additional to be raised for building purposes.

—The Bangor Whig says that President Samuel Harris, of Bowdoin College, has accepted the Dwight Professorship of Didactic Theology in the Yale Divinity School, and that ex-Governor Chamberlain has been tendered the Presidency of Bowdoin.

—The Rev. Henry Martyn Scudder, D.D., was formally installed as pastor of the Central Congregational Church in Ormond Place, Brooklyn, on Thursday evening, April 27. The charge to the pastor was delivered by the Rev. H. M. Storrs, D.D., and the sermon was preached by the Rev. Merrill Richardson.

—The American Missionary for May reports an addition in March of thirty members to its mission church at Marion, Alabama—all but one on profession of faith. This church was formed with sixteen members, nearly all colored, January 7, 1870. The additions are said to be of a very promising class, most of whom have been or are members of the mission school, and some of them young men who have the ministry in view.

—The Rev. Dr. Clark, for four years pastor of the Second Congregational Church at Greenwich, Conn., has resigned on account of ill health.

—Rev. Wm. M. Taylor, of Liverpool, England, has been engaged to supply the pulpit of Rev. Dr. R. S. Storrs, Jr., in the Church of the Pilgrims, Brooklyn, N. Y.

—Rev. Henry M. Scudder, D. D., formerly of San Francisco, Cal., was installed as pastor of the Central Congregational Church, in Brooklyn, N. Y., on the 27th of April.

—Rev. Humphrey Moore, D. D., died in Milford, N. H., April 8, at the age of ninety-two. He graduated at Harvard in 1797, and was ordained in Milford in 1802.

PRESBYTERIAN.

—The Cumberland Presbyterian, of Alton, Ill., accounts from the records of its own columns 2078 additions to the Church by profession of faith during the first three months of this year.

—The New York Observer says:—"One of the enterprises proposed for the Memorial year of the Presbyterian Church was the erection of a Presbyterian house in this city for the accommodation of the boards of the Church located here, and designed to be a centre of Presbyterian operations. Arrangements are now nearly completed for the purchase of the lots and buildings, situated on the northeast corner of University Place and Ninth street, which is regarded as a very desirable location."

—On Sabbath, April 9, a Presbyterian church was organized by the Rev. Joseph Brown in the neighborhood of his residence at Clear Water Harbor, Florida. It consists of fifteen members.

—Sixty-nine persons have been received into the communion of the Presbyterian church in Norfolk, Virginia—sixty on profession of their faith in Christ, and nine on certificate from other churches.

—The Lord has greatly blessed the Third Presbyterian Church, Memphis, Tenn., within the last two years, its numbers having been more than doubled within that time. At its last communion service the names of nine members, received into the church since the last communion, were announced.

—At the late meeting of the Presbytery of Chesapeake, Judge W. W. Legare was introduced by the Rev. J. J. Bullock, D. D., as a candidate for the ministry, and, after examination as to his personal piety and motives in seeking the ministry, was received under the care of Presbytery.

—The Treasurer of the Committee of Foreign Missions of the Southern Church has just closed his accounts for the year ending April 1, 1871, and finds that the contributions amount in the aggregate to a few hundred dollars more than they did the previous year.

REFORMED.

—The Reformed Church Messenger (German) reports many revivals of great power in the churches. Its last two numbers have been filled with accounts of the Easter communions, and report accessions amounting in the aggregate to more than eight hundred souls.

—The Messenger reports the missionary affairs of its Church in an improved condition. Some of the missionary charges have lately become self-sustaining; others are able to support themselves with smaller appropriations; the list of unpaid appropriations is being reduced, and the board hope, at a day not far distant, to be entirely out of debt. The Rev. Dr. Stern, superintending the missions of the West, generally, is industriously at work. The missions in the Pittsburg Synod are prospering.

—California has recently been taken under the care of the General Board. Rev. J. Wernley, late of the Mission House at Howard's Grove, Sheboygan, has been sent to explore and report on Stockton, Cal. A commission has been made out for him, and an appropriation has been allowed for his expenses.

—The General Synod of the Reformed Church, at its late session, recommended the raising of $50,000 for the Church Building Fund, during the present year. Ninety-two churches have contributed $3789·89, and three hundred and seventy-one remain to be heard from. The Secretary laments the meagre result of the effort.

METHODIST.

—The Troy Conference recently tried Rev. R. L. Herbert, of Fairhaven, Vermont, for heresy, and decided that his preaching tended to encourage Liberal Christian views, and that he should be publicly reprimanded by the Bishop.

—Rev. J. W. Waugh, D. D., and Mrs. Rev. H. Mansell, of the India Mission Conference, recently arrived in New York from India.

—A new Methodist church building was lately dedicated in Troy, N. Y., which cost $130,000. It contains a gallery near the organ for the use of newspaper reporters.

—At a convention lately held in Waxahachie, Texas, a commission was appointed to locate the Methodist University of Texas.

—Rev. Alfred Griffith, of the Baltimore Conference, one of the oldest preachers of America, died in Alexandria, Va., April 15, at the age of eighty-eight.

—The great California Camp Meeting was opened in Sacramento on Saturday, April 22. There were about 10,000 persons present at the first meeting in the mammoth tent.

—Rev. J. M. Thoburn, of the Lucknow India Mission, writes that the preacher of the Brahma Somaj, the Hindoo Unitarians, has been converted and baptized in Lucknow.

LUTHERAN.

—Some of the Lutheran churches in Baltimore, Md., received encouraging accessions to their membership at the Easter communion. At St. Mark's 21 were admitted; Second English, 22; Third English, 21; St. Stephen's German, 42; St. John's German, 58; St. Matthew's German, 111.

—A German Lutheran Church is soon to be organized in New York city, under the auspices of the City Missionary Society of the New York Ministerium.

—Mr. Endre Vold, of Norway, Iowa, recently donated $500 to the mission cause, as a thank offering for recovering from a severe illness. The money is placed in charge of the Synod for the Norwegian Lutheran Church in America.

—The Lutherans are rapidly increasing in America by immigration. They number at present 400,000.

JEWS.

—The Secretary of the Universal Israelite Alliance, at Paris, has issued a circular announcing that the operations of the society have not been suspended by the war, although its resources have been greatly impaired. The Agricultural School at Jaffa, Palestine, has progressed finely under M. Netter's administration, and the Normal School at Paris has held its sessions regularly, notwithstanding the siege.

FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

THE UNION FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

OVER FIVE MILLIONS ($5,000,000) OF DOLLARS WORTH OF PROPERTY IN THE UNITED STATES HAS ACTUALLY BEEN SAVED BY THE EXTINGUISHER

Within the past three years; while in Philadelphia alone twenty-five fires, endangering property to the extent of HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS, have been extinguished during the past year by the same means. Our Machine is the IMPROVED CARBONIC ACID GAS FIRE EXTINGUISHER, and is indorsed and used by M. Baird & Co., Henry Disston & Son, Benjamin Bullock's Sons, Morris, Tasker & Co., Alan Wood & Co., Lacey & Phillips, Bromley Brothers, S. J. Solms, Charles Enei, Johnson & Co., Rumby & Madeira, Francis Perot & Sons, George W. Childs, Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Philadelphia and Boston Steamship Company, Philadelphia and Southern Steamship Company, and many other of our leading business men and corporations.

CAUTION.—All parties in this community are warned against buying or selling "Extinguishers" except those purchased from us or our agents, under penalty of immediate prosecution for infringement.

Our prices have been reduced, and the Machine is now within the reach of every property holder.

N. B.—One style made specially for private residences.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

THE COAL TRADE.

The Probable Resumption in the Scranton Region—The Laborers to the Rescue—How the Other Regions will be Affected—The Proposed Resignation of the Leaders—The Complete Tonnage for the Week.

The prospects are decidedly brighter at the present writing for a resumption of mining operations in the upper coal region; but so far as our own region of Schuylkill is concerned, there is less hope of a settlement of difficulties unless the men take it into their heads to act for themselves for their own advantage, independent of anything which the leaders may say or do. The latest advices from Scranton state that the men in various district meetings have passed resolutions complying with the request of the companies that work shall be resumed at the terms offered, and that the question of wages be decided by arbitration afterwards. If these terms are still favorable to the companies, as their agents have assured the men they are, work will there be resumed at a very early day, possibly during the coming week.

A few days ago the men were not as willing to accept of this offer, but circumstances which have since occurred have hastened their action in a manner most marvellous. They have heretofore been holding meetings and offering terms to the companies each time a little more reasonable than the last, but each proposition being more than the companies had set as their ultimatum, and which they had repeatedly said they would not alter. The men considered it derogatory to their dignity to accept the exact terms offered, but evidently intended to come down to a figure very near it, but still somewhat higher, so that it could not be said that they acceded to the companies' demands. The companies stood out for 88 cents, or if the miners agreed to go to work without terms, the companies would then agree to submit the question of wages to arbitration. The miners had reached the point of $1·10 in their receding scale, when a class hitherto but little noticed in connection with the questions at issue stepped in to expedite matters. The inside laborers made an offer to the companies to work the mines, they being tired of enforced idleness, and also of poor pay when at work. This was an unlooked-for interference. The miners were disconcerted, and first made an offer to the companies to submit to general arbitration. This was promptly declined. If the miners wanted this they should have said so long ago, when the companies were also in favor of it. They could not certainly expect that the employers would be willing to accept of that method of settlement whenever the miners saw fit to want it because they could do no better, especially as it had been already rejected by those who now offered it. The companies are not usually in the habit of following the miners' lead in this manner, and the miners might have known as much had they chosen to consider.

The offer of general arbitration preparatory to resumption being rejected, an unhappy dilemma stared the miners in the face. They had either to swallow the distasteful pill of pride and agree to what the companies offered, against which they have been standing out all along, though gradually coming down to it, or, as an alternative, give up their positions as miners and let others take their places. This latter had never once been thought of, because the men thought they were sufficiently strong to prevent such a thing. They did not calculate on a dissension in their very midst. After considerable preliminary hemming and hawing the former course, though unpopular, appears to have been taken, and now there is prospect of work.

After the first humiliation is over, the men will not find the remedy so bitter as anticipated. The companies will certainly hold to their former offer, to allow arbitration after work has been resumed without fixed wages, in which case a better rate will be paid than the 86 cents, and this the men might have had long ago if they had only agreed to do as the companies wanted. The terms will probably be fixed at 94 cents per diamond car, which will be equivalent to the rates of the other regions.

The news of these important proceedings in the upper regions has caused the peculiar difficulties of the Schuylkill region and the basis question to be overlooked for a time. As the issue now stands it behooves the Schuylkill men to take some immediate action, unless they wish to feel the effects very severely for some time to come. If the leaders are able to impose upon the men much longer and compel them to remain in idleness, though this is very doubtful, the working regions will soon take all the work out of their hands. Even if the mines of the great companies in the upper region should not resume the Wilkesbarre mines and those now working independently all around, are able of themselves to seriously lessen the demand which legitimately should be most felt in Schuylkill.

But a general resumption in the upper region would undoubtedly compel a speedy resumption in the other regions, as the men would have to resume in self-defense. There would be nothing to gain and everything to lose, by a continued suspension. The men would resume with a much better grace, and also obtain better terms, if they were to do it now, before the arrangements are completed at Scranton.

The General Council of the Miners' Union have enacted a capital farce during the week in the matter of the proposed resignation of two of the leaders. On account of the great outcry of the public against them, their resignations were written and offered at a public meeting where everything was cut and dried to suit their purposes, and rejected by the delegates. It may be mentioned by way of note that no important business is ever transacted at a public meeting of that body. Anything that really affects the questions at issue is done in secret.

This offering of the resignations and their rejection by the miners' representatives is supposed to have quieted any outcry which may have been made that the leaders do not represent the wishes of the miners. But the resignations would not have been offered had it not been pretty certain what would be done with them. At least one of the leaders, who draws a good salary from his position, would not have staked that position had there been a danger of his losing it. The reason why there was no danger of his losing it is very evident. The leaders take good care that a majority of the General Council are favorable to their side. It is very easy for such consummate wire-pullers to; so manipulate ignorant miners in the election of their representatives. If the resignations had been offered to a general meeting of the miners, the case would have been different. That experiment will certainly never be tried if it can possibly be avoided.

The following is the complete summary of the trade for the past week, as reported for the Pottsville Miners' Journal of to-day:—

The Journal also has the following:—

"The resumption of the Wilkesbarre Coal and Iron Company, which embraces a large number of collieries, which will be followed by all the other collieries in the Wyoming Basin except those controlled by the three large companies, together with the low scale of prices at which they offer coal in the New York market, must stop a number of the independent collieries in this region, unless the men at once accept the operators' offer, when the tolls will also be reduced. The New Jersey Central Railroad having leased the Lehigh and Susquehanna Railroad, it has passed out of the control of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, and as the New Jersey Central are not parties to the agreement entered into by the others, the tolls are the same now as they were at the close of last year. They can also send coal from the Lehigh Navigation Company's mines if the men resume, which we understand they will in a few days, via the North Pennsylvania Railroad to Philadelphia, in limited quantities, to supply that market from the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre regions, which will only leave the line trade to be supplied from Schuylkill county, which cannot be reached from these points.

"If the Lehigh and Luzerne regions resume independent of the large companies, they can supply all the coal that the market will take, including the increased quantity of bituminous coal going to market, until August, if not longer, as the consumption of anthracite this year will be from one to one and a half millions tons less."

PICKPOCKET ARRESTED.—Jimmy Haggerty, a pickpocket, was this morning arrested for picking the pocket of Mary Young, on Chesnut street, near Tenth. Alderman Jones committed him in default of $600 bail.

HAND SMASHED.—A picker machine in Ripka's mill, Manayunk, caught this morning, and crushed the hand of a workman named Aaron Farrell, aged 45 years, residing on Green lane, Roxborough.

FORCED OUT.

Bishop Stevens Approves of the Dismissal of the St. Clement's Clergymen.

At noon to-day the vestry of St. Clement's Church, which is claimed to be an illegal body, met in an adjourned session, the rector of the church, Rev. Hermon G. Batterson, presiding.

A letter was read from the Rt. Rev. Bishop of this diocese, William Bacon Stevens, concurring in the resolutions passed by the vestry on the 3d inst., dismissing from the rectorship of the church Dr. Batterson, and from the assistant ministership Rev. W. H. N. Stewart, LL.D.

It was impossible for us to obtain the letter, which was dated on the 4th inst., or the day after the resolutions of dismissal were passed. It now remains to be determined whether such an action will be binding, in view of the fact that no charges were regularly preferred against these clergymen, and no opportunity given them of defending themselves from the imputations launched against them, before a properly organized ecclesiastical court.

It will be seen in our record of to-day's court proceedings, that Wednesday next has been fixed as the day for hearing the arguments on the motion to make the injunction now prohibiting the vestry from deposing the rector and his assistant perpetual. During the interim the church exercises will be conducted as heretofore, and the vestry promise not to close the doors of St. Clement's to the clergymen to-morrow.

On Tuesday next, the Episcopal Convention of this diocese convenes in this city, and it is quite likely that the St. Clement's troubles will be freely ventilated.

THE MORTALITY OF THE CITY.—The number of deaths in the city for the week ending at noon to-day was 248, being a decrease of 11 from last week, and 71 less than those of the corresponding period of last year. Of these, 150 were adults; 98 were minors. 174 were born in the United States, 57 were foreign, 19 were people of color, and 7 were from the country. Of this number, 34 died of consumption of the lungs; 17 of disease of the heart; 6 of marasmus; 9 of old age; 4 of typhoid fever; 7 of convulsions; 9 of scarlet fever; 15 of inflammation of the lungs; 7 of congestion of the brain; and 10 of debility.

The deaths were divided as follows among the different wards:—

A RELIC OF REVOLUTIONARY TIMES.—A fence is still standing in Germantown which was in its present location during the days of the Revolution, and still bears the marks upon it of the Battle of Germantown. It is upon the place of Mr. Elwood Johnson, Main street, above Washington lane. The property formerly belonged to the Keyser family, and was formerly in the possession of old Peter Keyser, who was a boy when the Battle of Germantown was fought. He remembered, and used to tell of the burial of eight British soldiers in one grave in Axe's Grave Yard, nearly opposite his father's house. The fence was built of inch boards, but they are now not more than a third of an inch in thickness, having been exposed to the weather for nearly a century. The posts are of red cedar, and have never been removed since they were first erected. Mr. Keyser having refused to have the fence removed during his lifetime, and the present owner retaining it as it has stood so long. Mr. Keyser was a Dunkard preacher, and was noted for his great memory, being able to quote the concluding sentence of any verse of Scripture that might be mentioned. On the north corner of the Johnson's family mansion, immediately adjoining the estate of the Keysers, there is a stone from which a piece was knocked away by a cannon-ball during the Battle of Germantown. The whole locality is full of such curiosities, and we only mention these because they have been reckoned too unimportant to be recorded in any historical works.

THE WILL OF THE LATE BENJAMIN MARSHALL.—This morning the will of the late Benjamin Marshall was admitted to probate. The estate is above $300,000. This is the text of the document:—

This indenture, made this the 25th day of November, in the year of our Lord 1867, witnesseth that I, Benjamin Marshall, of the city of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, do make this my last will and testament, in manner and form as follows:—

First. I direct my executors hereinafter named to pay all my just debts and funeral and administratory expenses.

Second. I give and bequeath to my affectionate wife, Harriet W. Marshall, my dwelling-house No. 1116 Spruce street, now occupied by me, and also an annual income of $6000.

Third. The remainder of my estate, after paying the foregoing annuity and $5000, about the amount received from the estate of Dr. Barton White by my affectionate wife, I bequeath to my dear sisters, Sarah and Mary Marshall, share and share alike, and in case of the death of either, to the survivor.

Lastly, I do hereby constitute and appoint my wife, Harriet W. Marshall, and Thomas S. Newlin, of the city of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, the executors of this my last will and testament. In witness whereof I hereunto set my hand and seal the day and year before named.

BENJAMIN MARSHALL.

THE KNICKERBOCKER LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, the affairs of which have recently been in dispute, has been subjected to an investigation by Superintendent Miller, of the New York Insurance Department. The result, published in another column of this paper, shows that the total liabilities of the company are $6,844,996, while its assets are $7,020,975, giving the company a surplus of assets over all liabilities of about $176,000. Adding amounts standing on the books against agents, claimed to be good, the surplus would reach $650,662, "thus showing," as Superintendent Miller says, "the company to be entirely solvent, and entitled to the confidence of its policy-holders and the public." Superintendent Miller further says:—"But so far as facts appear from my investigation, I find that the Knickerbocker has honorably and promptly met and discharged all legitimate claims, the gross sum paid for such claims upon policies since its organization amounting to $2,881,849·86, besides dividends paid to policy-holders, amounting to $925,424 85."

ST. CHARLES' FAIR.—Last evening, at the fair in aid of the new church of St. Charles Borromeo, Twentieth and Christian streets, ended one of the most exciting contests we have ever witnessed.

There was a new spring dray being voted for; the contest, which was begun over three weeks ago, being between Samuel Harris and James McGarrity. There was an aggregate of ten thousand five hundred and thirteen votes polled. At the close the vote stood, McGarrity 6640, Harris 3891. Notwithstanding the great interest taken in voting by the friends of each party the affair ended in a manner that is worthy of imitation by others, and highly creditable to the contestants and their friends engaged in the contest. There was also a contest for a gold-headed cane, which was awarded to Mr. Charles McIntyre. This evening a gold watch goes off, on which line vote last evening was as follows:—Jennings 54, McDevitt 67, McAvoy 128.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE NORTHERN HOME FOR FRIENDLESS CHILDREN.—In consequence of the occupancy of the Academy of Music by the Black Crook, the eighteenth anniversary of this institution will be held in the Arch Street M. E. Church, Broad and Arch streets, on Thursday evening next. The exercises will be of the usually interesting character, consisting of singing, recitations, dialogues, etc. Several popular speakers will participate in the exercises, among whom we observe the names of Rev. Dr. Harper, Rev. H. M. Warren, and Rev. J. L. Withrow. Rev. E. W. Hutter will preside. As these anniversaries have always attracted large audiences, and as the admission is free and no reserved seats, those who desire to witness this one should go in time.

DISPLAY OF FRUITS AND FLOWERS.—On Tuesday evening next, at Horticultural Hall, the monthly display of flowers will be thrown open to the public by this enterprising society. The exhibition will include baskets and designs in cut flowers, beautiful bouquets, ornamental foliage plants, rare plants in bloom, etc. A fine serenade band will be present, and the hall will be beautifully decorated with sewers, evergreens, etc. Heretofore, no admission fee has been charged, but the crowd has become so great that the managers, by request, have decided to charge 25 cents admission, or 5 tickets for $1.

FIRE IN A DYE-HOUSE.—A fire at a quarter past 2 o'clock this morning destroyed the upper story and its contents of the dye-house of Daniel Allen, on Frankford road, above Hart lane. The room contained a quantity of wool and cotton, which of course was totally consumed. The loss will not exceed $800. The fire, it is supposed, was started by an incendiary.

OLD RICHMOND DISTRICT.—This morning United States Officers Clarke, Mitchell, and Shriver went to the old Richmond District and discovered, in a lot at the rear of No. 1702 Salmon street, six hogsheads of mash and a still. They destroyed the former and carried off the latter.

VAGRANTS.—Four boys were discovered sleeping at a step, in Locust street, near Ninth, at one o'clock, this morning. They have been ascertained to be vagrants, and Alderman Morrow sent them to the House of Refuge.

THE FRANCO-GERMAN RELIEF FUND.—The Committee on Amusements of the Franco-German Relief Fund, viz.:—Messrs. John Thornley (Chairman), E. L. Davenport, John E. McDonough, and Jean Louis, have presented to the Mayor a statement of their receipts, as follows:—

From entertainment at Academy	$969·50
" Signor Blitz	14·33
" Miss Behrens	44·75
" papers	106·60
Total	$1135·18
Expenses:—
Rent of Academy	$150·00
Expenses of same	102·29
Printing	274·99
	527·28
Leaving a balance of	$607·90

which has been used in the purchase of supplies.

THE RELAPSING FEVER.—This morning the last of the persons afflicted with relapsing fever in Mahlon street, running from Race street, below Sixth, were removed to the Municipal Hospital. The houses, which were in a disgustingly filthy condition, are being cleaned, and by the exercise of all sanitary precautions the distemper will be checked. There exists among physicians a great ignorance of this contagious disease, accountable from the fact that prior to the epidemic of last year but little was known of it outside of the city and scarcely nothing of it within. A doctor returned to the Board of Health yesterday a case of intermittent fever, which, upon examination by the Health Officer, turned out to be relapsing fever. As yet no signs of this contagion has appeared in the Alaska district.

BURGLARIOUS ATTEMPT.—The dwelling of Mr. Fox, at the southeast corner of Eighth and Master streets, was attempted, at 10 o'clock this morning, to be entered by burglars, who were discovered by Officer Strohauer in the act of prying with a jimmy at the window-shutter. He gave chase, and picked up the jimmy, but not the burglars, these individuals being too fleet of foot.

A BAD-TEMPERED FELLOW.—Joseph Burns was standing at the corner of Fifth and Redwood streets last night, when a man came along with a bucket of coal and, unintentionally, knocked into Joseph. This raised his ire, and he out with a blackjack and hammered the other individual on the head with it. He was arrested, and will be at the Central hearings this afternoon.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

St. Clement's.

Court of Common Pleas—Judge Ludlow.

In the matter of the preliminary injunction issued on Thursday last, to restrain the acting vestry of St. Clement's Church from proceeding to enforce their resolution dismissing the rector, Dr. H. G. Batterson, and his assistant, Dr. H. N. Stewart, from the charge of the parish, counsel this morning appeared in Court, and those representing the vestry moved to have the case argued, or at once, or dissolve the injunction. Counsel representing the rector asked for time, saying they had not had opportunity to prepare for argument, and upon that ground the Judge granted the continuance until Wednesday next, at 10 o'clock, being assured there would be no difficulty or disturbance tomorrow at the church.

Bunn's Troubles.

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Paxson.

In the case of William M. Bunn, charged with subornation of perjury, counsel to-day argued a motion to quash the three bills of indictment on the ground that the prosecution was barred by the statute of limitations, and that while the binding over was to the March term, and indictments were found in the February term. The matter was held under advisement.

OBITUARY.

Archduchess Marie Annonciade of Bourbon.

The cable announces the death at the residence of her husband, in the city of Vienna, yesterday morning, of the Princess Marie Annonciade Isabella-Philomene Sabazie, daughter of Ferdinand II, ex-King of Naples and Sicily. She was born at Naples on the 24th of March, 1843, and was consequently at the time of her death but just over twenty-eight years of age. She was married at Rome by "procuration," on the 16th of October, and on the 22d of that month in person at Venice to Charles Louis Joseph Marie, Archduke of Austria. At the time of the wedding, and for some years suosequently, her husband was commander of the Austrian forces in geographical Italy, and his wife continued to reside with him in Venice. The reverse to the Austrian arms at Sadowa in 1866 caused the recall of the Archduke Charles to the scene of operations and to the command of the army in the field. The treaty of peace between the belligerents surrendered Venice and the Austrian territory on Italian soil to Victor Emanuel. The Archduchess Marie Annonciade then bade goodby to a country of some portions of which her ancestors had for centuries been the rulers, and resided for the last four or five years of her life at Vienna, where she died yesterday.

A NEW PATENT.
LAGER BEER,
ALE, AND PORTER, APPARATUS.
W. W. FENNER,
No. 127 NORTH SIXTH STREET,
Sole Agent for Strater's Patent.

This machine is entirely different from the old style Beer Pump. It performs its own work, and requires no labor. The liquors are forced up from the cellar to the bar-room by means of a pressure of air made by force of water, and can be drawn just as clear as directly from the barrel.

Among the many advantages claimed for this machine are, that the beer or ale never becomes flat, and can be drawn as cold as ice water with very small expense of ice.

The Apparatus can always be seen at my place in operation, or at any of the principal saloons in this city. 5 6 stuth12t*
